Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 27 April 2006.
- 2a) ☐ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☒ This action is non-final.
- 3) ☐ Since this application is in condition for allowance except for formal matters, prosecution as to the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

DETAILED ACTION

Specification

The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: The specification lacks the heading Brief Description of the Figures and related explanation of each Figure.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 10, 11, 13-22 and 24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Orlando et al (US Patent 5,184,973).

Orlando et al teach a fish scaling machine having upper conveyor means or brushes and lower conveyor means C. Water injection means 34 are provided to spray water onto scales of said fish bodies on said conveyor means. The water injection means includes at least two rows of water injection nozzles spaced in said conveyance direction. The water injection means includes a water pressure adjustment section to apply water onto said scales at a uniform pressure. Regarding claim 14, each water injection nozzle includes a nozzle opening and are positioned a constant distance to the respective surface portions of said fish body. In regards to claim 15, the first set of nozzles as compared to the second set of nozzles having different lengths. As for claims 19 and 20, the nozzles are positioned in at least two stage that occur at spaced locations along said conveyance direction.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 12 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Orlando et al (US Patent 5,184,973) in view of Kalenius (WO 90/03115).

Orlando et al do not teach water injections means positioned in a lower positions.

Kalenius teaches a fish scaling device including upper and lower water injection nozzles. Regarding claim 12, it would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the apparatus of Orlando et al to have lower water injection nozzles, in view of the teachings of Kalenius, in order to remove scales from the under side of the fish.

Claim 23 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Orlando et al (US Patent 5,184,973). Orlando et al does not discuss providing water pressure in said at least two rows of water injection nozzles that is different. However, it would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the water injection nozzles of Orlando et al with different water pressure from stage to stage, because not all of the nozzles are perform the same task, and each task is different, ie skinning versus scaling.

Conclusion

Summary: Claims 10-24 are rejected.
